

Will County 4-H Clubs Pull Out Of Joliet Pageant of Progress; Want to Have Own Fairgrounds

There is a likely possibility that the annual Will County 4H show will be held at the Peotone fair grounds this year but whether it will be held there or some other place it is definite that it won't be conducted in conjunction with the Joliet Pageant of Progress.

The 4H show at which members exhibit livestock, produce and the results of their other projects is a highlight in the activities of farm boys and girls. Their aim is to acquire a site of their own for their annual fair but in the meantime they will make use of established grounds and buildings and it is understood that Peotone is the choice of many.

The 4H fair was formerly held in Peotone but two years ago it was moved to Joliet to be held in conjunction with the Joliet Pageant of Progress.

Participants in the show were not too happy with the arrangements for it at the Pageant of Progress last year and decided to pull out. Tents store up a tremendous amount of heat in hot weather and keeping livestock under canvas is not considered the best way to keep it healthy. Several animals died as a result of the heat at the Pageant last summer.

The 4H fair this year is expected to be held in August but the dates have not been fixed as yet.

Mokena Woman Hit By Auto Crossing Street in Joliet

Mrs. Anita Harr, of Mokena, suffered multiple bruises last Thursday noon when she was struck by a car while crossing the street at the intersection of Chicago and Webster sts., in downtown Joliet.

Her husband, Andrew, who was sitting in the family car, was parked near the Bluebird Bus station, saw that a woman was struck and knocked down but didn't know the victim was his wife until he reached the scene.

The driver of the car that hit Mrs. Harr was Joseph P. Galick, 55, of 426 Abe st., Joliet. The accident occurred while Galick was making a left turn off Chicago street. He was arrested on a charge of failure to yield right of way to a pedestrian, and several other charges.

Opens Launderette At Lincoln Estates

Robert and June Jolinger, of Lincoln Estates, who opened a launderette there last month expressed themselves as pleased with the reception given their venture.

The establishment is located on Route 30, next to the Midwest store, and is equipped with 12 washers and five drying units, one of them an extra large one.

One can wash and dry shag rugs and blankets as well as the usual items that one launders. The Lincoln Estates Launderette also has a shirt finishing service and serves as a pick up station for the Straka dry cleaning firm of Joliet.

In getting the plant ready for business the Jolingers found that lack of sewer mains necessitated quite a bit of engineering to compensate for this lack. They have installed an Imhoff tank that is capable of serving a community of a thousand persons.

Tin has a boiling point of 2,270 degrees.

Lightning Strikes Silo on Schoeling Farm Near Frankfort

Lightning struck a silo on the William Schoeling farm on Center rd., two miles south of Frankfort, about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening, ripping out seven door frames.

Cattle standing just inside an open door in the barn within four feet of the base of the silo were not injured.

The bolt struck the steel ring around the top of the concrete silo and then hurtled downward along the line of doors. Silo doors are about three feet high, separated by the top and bottom portions of the frame.

When silage has been fed down to the bottom of a door space the next door below is then removed. Mr. Schoeling had "fed down seven doors."

After the lightning bolt had ripped out the frames of seven doors it apparently switched to the inside and grounded out thru the silage. Mr. Schoeling said, without damage to the feed. The electrical switches in the barn and a hot water heater also were burned out but there was no fire started.

Mr. Schoeling was in the house at the time. He said the cracking blast that accompanied the strike was deafening and that it seemed as if seconds passed before anyone could speak.

There was considerable fog Tuesday afternoon and evening until it was dissipated by rain and wind. Some hail was reported in the area but it was small and the fall was brief. Harvey reported a considerable amount of sizable hail. A tornado hit in Iriquois county, in the vicinity of Buckley along Route 45. Three persons were injured and four farm buildings flattened.

Taxes was the subject which the New Lenox Toastmasters discussed at their meeting March 5. The speakers' program consisted of a symposium on, "Do we really need all these taxes?" If not, what can we do about it? Speakers were Ernest Hofer, Les Brownlee, Paul Kauf and Stanley Gilmore.

Area Schools Receive Share Of State Aid

Federal and state aid received by the public schools of Will county for February totals $213,787.04, according to County Supt. Verne E. Cracker.

The state aid portion was $87,277.71 and represents the first payment made on claims filed last July. School districts in Frankfort, New Lenox and Homer townships are included in the distribution of state aid but do not receive any of the $104,182.20 paid over by the federal government. The federal money went to eight districts whose enrollments were affected by the impact of federally affiliated projects, such as the arsenal and the Argonne laboratory.

The largest amount received by any district in this area was $4,053.16 and went to the New Lenox village schools Dist. 122. Included in this amount is $34.17 which was due the Lynk school which is now merged with Dist. 122.

District 159, which is the Mokena village school, gets $2,257.39 and Frankfort school, Dist. 157-C receives $1,496.50.

Reiter school in New Lenox township gets $51.61 and Schmuhl $298.81; also receiving state aid in New Lenox township is Francis school, $61.73. There was no money due Marley school, according to the list.

Schools in Frankfort township, besides those mentioned, who received allotments are Ann Rutledge, $969.89; Gatter's school, $211.34; Summit Hill, $55 and Weitendorf, $46.48.

Lincoln-Way high school's share was $235.41.

Three schools in Homer township received aid, Hadley, $194.53; Wells Corner, $38.47 and Goodings Grove, $29.43.

Illness Fatal to Emma Stellwagen, Native of Mokena

Miss Emma Margaret Stellwagen, 76, of 126 Front st., Mokena, died in the Lincoln Nursing home in Joliet Sunday, following a lingering illness.

Miss Stellwagen was born in Mokena, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Stellwagen and lived there all her life, where her father had a harness shop. She was taken ill last December and was removed to Silver Cross hospital and two weeks ago was taken to the nursing home.

She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Alma Caulfield, Mokena, and Laura and Mabel Stellwagen, of Harvey. Two brothers preceded her in death. Funeral services were held in the Hallinan Funeral home in Blue Island yesterday afternoon with burial in the Lutheran cemetery in that city.

Dentist Opens Office in Mokena

Dr. J. O. Hitz of Chicago opened a dentist office in Mokena this week. It has been about 40 years since a dentist was located in Mokena.

Dr. Hitz recently purchased the home of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Moriarty on Front st., Mokena, and has remodeled part of it into a dental office.

He is a graduate of the Washington university at St. Louis and of the college of dentistry at Loyola university, and had an office at 55th and Drexel ave., in Chicago, for 10 years. He later moved his office to 61st and Drexel. For the past 26 years he has served in the Woodlawn clinic and hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. Hitz bought the old Sayers farm on 167th st., 14 years ago and after doing complete remodeling, moved there 5 years ago for their permanent home. They have a daughter who is an anaesthetist in St. Margaret's hospital, Hammond, Ind., and their son is the proprietor of the Hitz Country House, 153rd and Wolf road.

Young Musicians Form Dance Band

A group of young musicians in Mokena is organizing a dance band and as a result are looking for talent. Boys of high school age who can play an instrument and are interested in joining such an organization, may call Keith Liston at Mokena 2381 or Terry Marshall at Mokena 4691.

Leap Year Twins--Husky Ones Too

These two young misses who arrived Feb. 29 will probably find it quite inconvenient to have a birthday only once every four years for a time but later on they can and no doubt will appreciate it. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Stankus, of 195th st., Mokena, and are named Iris Elizabeth and Rose Margaret and together they weighed in at a trifle over 18 pounds. Quite an armful, as Mrs. Irene Geddes, supervisor of the nursery at Silver Cross hospital in Joliet, will attest. The photographer doesn't remember now—because he made quite a few baby shots that day—whether the open mouth of the youngster at the left denotes a yawn or a yowl. There are three other children in the Stankus family, the oldest of whom is 11 and the youngest eight years old.

14 Schools Will Send Spellers To Sectional Match at Frankfort

Fourteen grade schools, public and parochial, will send representatives to the sectional spelling match to be held at the Frankfort school Monday night.

Winners from the sectional matches that are to be held thruout Will county will then compete for the sixth annual championship at Pershing school in Joliet March 24.

Fifteen finalists will be selected at the nine sectionals. The match at Frankfort is to begin at 7:15 o'clock and the public is invited.

Judges will be Alice Gorman and Dr. Ralph Wright of the Lincoln-Way high school faculty which will also supply the other officials, Eunice Harra, who will pronounce the words and Robert Van Rheeden, time keeper. Miss Viola Lankenau, principal of the Frankfort school is in charge of the match. The Frankfort section is No. 7.

Schools that will be represented are Ann Rutledge, Gatter, Frankfort, Mokena public and St. Mary's parochial school from Mokena, Schmuhl, Summit Hill, St. Jude's of New Lenox, New Lenox public, Reiter, Marley, Francis, Manhattan public and St. Joseph's parochial of Manhattan.

The number of contestants is governed by the enrollment. Each school is allowed one contestant for each 30 pupils or fraction thereof.

The county champion will get a trip to Washington as his or her reward, the expenses to be paid by the Joliet Herald-News which sponsors the contest.

The contest, of course, is conducted orally, which is a departure from the regular course of things for the young spellers. The schools no longer have oral spelling. All the lessons are now written so the annual spelling match is something different.

The officials and heads of each section will be guests of the Herald-News at a dinner in the Hotel Louis Joliet tomorrow night for a final briefing.

The contest is arranged thru the cooperation of County School Superintendent Verne E. Cracker and his staff.

The list of words that is used is compiled by some outside agency, generally at some college.

Village Board to Take Up Sewer Question At Special Session

Proceeds from Carnival Will Benefit Chorus

Saturday, March 10, will be a big night at Lincoln-Way high school. That is the date of the "Karnival Knight" sponsored by the chorus. All of the clubs in the school are taking part in the carnival. Each organization will be operating a booth or game. There will be fortune telling, ring tosses, dart games, food, nickel dances, and even a fun house. The choir is also running a "Kiddy Beauty Salon" where the little ladies of your family can go and be "glamorized" and a Country Store where you can buy everything from homemade preserves to embroidered eyeglass cases.

A king and queen will be chosen this week at the high school and will be crowned at the carnival. All in all, the promoters say, it promises to be a very entertaining evening for the whole family.

It's at the Lincoln-Way high school gym from 8:00 to 11:00 p. m., Saturday, March 10, and the admission is only a dime. Betty Tryon is head of the vocal department.

Ford Presents Ralph Show With Watch for Sales

A plaque and a wrist watch have been presented to Ralph Show of the Cooper-Show Ford agency at Frankfort by the Ford company in recognition of his ability as sales manager.

The plaque recites that the sales have exceeded the objectives set up for the company for November and December. It was a year-end championship award and Mr. Show was complimented for "doing an outstanding job."

Cooper-Show Agency was opened at Frankfort last September.

Mrs. Show also received a wrist watch from the Ford company.

Explains Work Done At Trinity School

Because the excellent work that the Trinity school is doing for retarded and exceptional children is not too well known or understood, Mrs. George Bernard of Mokena is eager to explain and extol its activities and results.

This school is located on the Gougar road just north of route 30 and its pupils come from Mokena area in addition to the Joliet area. The teachers are especially trained to handle such children and, as well as all other such schools, is proving a great blessing, for without them such children would become more handicapped. Being able to attend school and receive special training, many of these children or young people become useful citizens.

In order to acquaint parents of this opportunity to help retarded or exceptional children, Mrs. Bernard would like to contact them. Mrs. Bernard can be reached at Mokena 4921.

L-W Teacher to Tour Europe With Chorus

Mrs. Betty Tryon, who is in charge of vocal music at Lincoln-Way high school, and her husband, W. Paul Tryon, music supervisor in the Joliet grade schools, will tour Europe this summer as members of the All American Chorus.

The Tryons are among the first 43 accepted for the chorus. When completed the group will be comprised of 100 mixed voices chosen from all sections of the nation.

The chorus is to leave New York June 20 and are to return Aug. 3. They will make radio, TV and concert appearances in Austria, Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Belgium, France and England, under the direction of Dr. James Allan Dash, one of America's top flight conductors.

The purpose of the tour is described as two-fold: To stimulate interest in good music.

To demonstrate abroad an important facet of the "American Way of Life."

Mokena Board to Protest Against Brownlee Zoning

After listening to protests against the re-zoning of a 50-foot lot on the east side of Wolf rd., across from Woodland Circle, the Mokena village board at its regular meeting Tuesday night voted to file objections to same with the Will county board of supervisors.

Village Attorney Raymond Hoolehan was instructed to prepare the necessary legal papers in connection with this and to represent the municipality at the county board meeting which will be held next month.

At a recent session of the Will county zoning board of appeals the property in question was reclassified from residential to business. There were 22 objections at that hearing.

The property is owned by Les Brownlee and he petitioned for the change that he might erect a building to carry garden supplies and also serve as a place for sharpening and repairing lawnmowers.

The proposed business site is just north of the L. E. Weathers residence. The Weathers purchased their home from Brownlee and contend that a business next to it would cause considerable depreciation to its value.

There is some property zoned for business on Wolf road, five lots south of Duncan's corner. Between the south limit of this business property and Brownlee's proposed business site is approximately a block and a half of residential property, it was said.

The village board members stated that it was against the board's policy to approve "spot" zoning and they look on this case as such.

New Lenox 4-H Boy Gets Award

Twelve year old Dennis Helenehouse of New Lenox township, a member of the Town Hall Blue Ribbon 4H club, has been given state recognition for his 1955 project.

Dennis raises Guernseys, one of the leading breeds of milk cattle, and at the 4H show held last August in connection with the Joliet Pageant of Progress his cow was named reserve grand champion.

The 4H department of the University of Illinois notified the Illinois Guernsey Breeders' association that Dennis had been selected as the Will county winner of the certificate of merit, as the highest ranking member with a Guernsey project in 1955.

Dennis had received an award pin for his achievement earlier but it was Feb. 24 when he received the certificate. He and his mother, Mrs. Harold Helenehouse, went to Urbana where the presentation was made. The certificate itself is made up of plastic and so requires no framing.

Dennis has been a 4H member for two years now. The leader of the Town Hall Blue Ribbon group is Dale Kratzberg. There are 13 members.

Civil Defense Police, Air Patrol Conduct Rehearsal of Duties

Some 300 men, members of the Civil Defense police auxiliary and the civil air patrol had maneuvers Sunday that extended from southwest Cook county to Joliet and from the Lincoln highway on the south to Route 34 on the north and included Lockport and Lemont.

The men, all volunteers, who buy their own uniforms and equipment and use their own cars, met at LaGrange at 8 a. m. Sunday and from there were dispatched to various localities.

Orland Park was one of the places selected as a headquarters as it was recognized as an important point of exodus in the event of an emergency in Chicago.

Three cars were marked with insignia that could be seen from the air. They were supposed to represent targets that had been hit by bombs. Their location was transmitted to the ground forces by the patrol planes and the auxiliary police then went into action.

The maneuvers continued until 5 o'clock in the afternoon and served those engaged as a rehearsal for the annual nationwide "Operation Alert" to be held in June.

The Mokena village board is to take up the question of construction of a sanitary sewer system at a special meeting tonight. According to Mayor John Scarth the board will confer tonight with representatives of engineering firms preparatory to selecting one to make a survey of the sanitation needs of the community.

This report, it was said, would also cover the estimated cost and the location of a sanitary sewer system.

Mayor Scarth is hopeful of getting the proposed improvement in shape so that work can actually be commenced in the not distant future, if the engineers can show that it is practical and would not be too expensive.

The proposed sanitary sewer mains would be laid below basement level, it was said, and not used to carry storm water. There is tile laid in the village now that carries storm water and also the flow from septic tanks.

Heavy rains cause these lines to overflow and the water backs up into basements. Some believe that if used only to carry off surface water the storm tiles now in use will be sufficient. They could be cut off from basements or blocked so that the water could not back up, it was said.

Mokena, like many other communities today, has a serious sanitation problem. The village does not have a sanitary sewer system but depends upon septic tanks. Septic tanks, engineers point out, are not suitable to handle built up areas.

The state of Illinois, which has been quite lenient as far as enforcing sanitation laws in small communities, is beginning to crack down now.

So many of these communities, particularly those near large cities, have been growing tremendously in the past several years and are expected to continue to do so for many years to come. The state health department foresees a serious menace to public health if sanitation facilities do not keep pace with this growth.

At the Tuesday night meeting of the board Russell Bennett and four other residents in the north end of the village asked for help with their drainage problem. There is a slough nearby and when it rains it overflows, covering roads as well as their yards and frequently leaving them isolated unless they choose to wade out.

Mayor Scarth said the question would be taken up with the engineers the village hires.

Packing Firm Will Operate Farm In Frankfort Township

The William Kasper Sr., farm of 160 acres, which was recently sold to Swift and Co., of Chicago is being converted into a live stock and poultry research farm. Several new buildings are to be added this year that will be needed in the work. The farm is located two miles south of route 30 on route 45.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kolar of Chicago have moved to the place which Mr. Kolar will manage. He has been employed in the research laboratory of Swift and Co., in Chicago.

Asks $20,000 For Injuries

A suit asking $20,000 for personal injuries suffered when she was struck by an automobile last July 27 in Joliet, has been filed in the Will county circuit court by Mary Shunko of Mokena, thru Attorney Raymond Hoochman of Robson, Masters and Ryan.

The defendant is Louis Barroso, of 527 W. 7th st. Lockport, said to have been the driver of the car.

The accident occurred at Ottawaw and Jefferson streets in downtown Joliet. According to the complaint, the plaintiff was walking west, crossing Ottawa street when she was struck by the car as it was being turned north onto Ottawa from Jefferson.

Parents Have Major Role In Curbing Juvenile Delinquency

Juvenile delinquency is not new. Confucius, who lived 551 (?) -478 B.C., referred to it and no doubt there are earlier references to a problem that probably is as old as the human race. And the chances that it will remain a problem for untold generations to come is quite probable. Past performances forecast future results, to borrow an axiom of the boss players, so it is fair to assume that juvenile delinquency which has been with us thru the centuries is not to disappear overnight.

Whether there is more juvenile delinquency now than in other periods of tension and turmoil that have afflicted the world in times past is difficult to say. There are no records on it.

Parents of 40 years ago were faced with practically the same problems of bringing up their youngsters as are parents today. The big difference apparently lies in the fact that parents 40 years ago did something about it.

Today they sit back and wait for someone else to do something. They have a complex that if they punish their children, said offsprings will develop a complex, which will give the parents another complex and so on and so on.

Perhaps such an attitude on the part of parents who adopt it is just part of a general trend to shirk responsibilities and subscribe to the "let George do it" school of philosophy. One encounters this in the trades, in business, in industry, and in government, particularly in government.

Hire an expert and let him do the worrying seems to be the prevailing method for disposing of problems. And if one doesn't have the money with which to do the hiring, that's all right too, because the experts seem to wind up on a good solid payroll of some division of government or a richly endowed foundation, that in turn proffers their services to the public.

There are many professional do-gooders available to that are ready to take over as advisers or consultants drop of a hat—and if there is no hat handy they will take over just the same.

We are cursed by experts. In the past several decades men and women, no doubt motivated with good intentions, have combined to take over the juvenile problem. The starchy-eyed factition, aided and abetted by psychiatrists, psychologists and sociologists whom penitentiary inmates lump under the term of "bug doctors" or "brain shrinkers," have convinced the lawmakers to adopt special measures governing the treatment of juvenile cases.

It used to be that cases of vandalism, petty theft, truancy and the like were dealt with summarily by parents, or if the offense was sufficiently serious to warrant police action the young offender was treated as any other offender charged with a similar crime. Sometimes a policeman, who knew all the circumstances far better than any court could get to know them, acted as judge and jury and executed sentence on the spot—usually with excellent results.

But not today. Today a cop wouldn't dare lay a finger on a juvenile, not even if the juvenile pulled a knife on him or even shot him, as too often happens. The "brain shrinkers" would come in to explain that junior was the victim of some complex or other and was merely trying to find himself, while the bleeding-heart contingent would cluck-cluck sympathy and voice indignation against society in general for its failure to understand Junior.

What the do-gooders don't seem to understand is that a teenager can be even more vicious and more dangerous than any adult. Certainly he can kill you just as dead. Why a criminal young in years should be treated any different than a criminal old in years is difficult to fathom. The young hoodlum knows that he is protected against punishment by a special set of laws and he takes advantage of every break in the book. Older criminals also take advantage of the situation by employing young thugs to rob and steal because they know that if they are caught the chances are fabulous that nothing will be done to them. True, they are placed on probation in many instances but that doesn't mean much. Usually they have to violate probation several times before any action is finally taken. The young hoods know this and act accordingly.

It was recently suggested by a person who claimed to have been a juvenile problem in the late 20's and early 30's that if juvenile delinquency treated as a mental condition and the youngsters sent to mental hospitals it might effect a cure. Few would want to be given a record as a "nut", he pointed out.

Namby-pamby parents and morally weak parents are blamed for a lot of juvenile delinquency and with reason. Parents must follow right instead of wrong if they expect their children to do the same.

Chinese parents, for example, put all the blame on themselves when one of their offspring goes wrong. They say that someplace along the line they failed in their responsibilities. Of course, with the Chinese, family is a great thing and so is face. A Chinese youth knows that if he or she does something that lands them in the clutches of the law they have brought disgrace and shame to their family, not only to their immediate family but to all persons bearing the name. This means loss of face for all of them is a serious thing to the Chinese. As a result, the number of juvenile delinquents of Chinese parentage is exceedingly small, records show.

Parents are not always to blame for the dereliction of their offspring but a lot of them could be doing a better job of raising children then they are doing. And if they will admit that they are responsible for the job and not wish it off on school teachers or other hired personnel it would be a big step in the right direction.

CROP Prepares For Fall Drive

The Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) developed new enthusiasm recently as twenty members of the state committee and district supervisors promised to kick off the drive next fall with a personal contribution of $20 each which is the amount needed to distribute a ton of surplus food overseas thru Church World Service. These pledges together represent enough for forty thousand pounds of surplus distribution.

During the annual business session of CROP, Ralph Shelton New Holland in Logan county, was elected State CROP chairman. He succeeds Warren Moffet, Modesto, who has served in this capacity for the past four years.

Church and community groups working thru CROP, have found a practical use for some of the mounting pile of surpluses. Believing that food is to eat, they have collected funds to distribute large quantities of this food to hungry people overseas.

A total of 2,233,752 pounds of surplus food, valued at $599,411.67 was sent with funds collected in Illinois in 1955. This is in addition to the large stocks of surpluses shipped with funds made available by individual church denominations. Distribution overseas is made by missionaries and other church workers. Because of this kind of distribution, these surpluses have a better chance of getting into the hands that need them, with out interfering with the normal channels of trade, it was explained.

Sherrill Merie Swart Becomes Bride of Nelson Dean Riemersma

The wedding of the former Miss Sherrill Merie Swart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gertrude Swart, Mokena, and Nelson Dean Riemersma, son of Mrs. Dina Riemersma of Zeeland, Mich., took place in the Mokena Methodist church Feb. 11 at 4 p.m., with the pastor, the Rev. Dale Kleinschmidt officiating.

The church chancel was decorated with red carnations and white gladioli and palms. The bride who was escorted by her father, wore a gown with a nylon chiffon skirt over white slipper satin and a bodice of white chantilly lace with a stand-up collar. Her long train was edged with a wide lace ruffle which belled from a lace headpiece. She wore a strand of pearls and carried a white orchid on a blue.

Mrs. James Gillette, Mokena, was matron of honor and Miss Barbara Geuther, Mokena and Miss Janyce Robinson, Chicago, cousin of the groom were bridesmaids. They wore identical floor length gowns of white nylon chiffon with red velvet jackets and carried a heart shaped bouquet made of red carnations.

Little Anita Lambert, niece of the groom from Grand Rapids, Mich., was flower girl and was dressed in a white toe-length dress with a red velvet jacket.

Paul Riemersma, was best man for his brother, and ushers were Phillip Cobb, Zeeland, Mich., and Roger Swart, brother of the bride. The ring bearer was Randy Swart, cousin of the bride, of Dolton.

Mrs. Marge Rattjes, Chicago, presided at the organ and accompanied Robert DeVos of Chicago when he sang, "Ich Liebe Dich," "How Do I Love You" and "A Wedding Prayer."

The bride's mother chose a dress of tan corded nylon taffeta with cocoa colored accessories, and a pink carnation corsage. The groom's mother wore a dress of rose pink lace with white accessories, and a white carnation corsage.

The reception was held in the dining room of St. John's Evangelical church, Mokena, where the 150 guests gathered to extend congratulations and well wishes. Presiding at the punch bowl was Miss Helen Rueckert and Mrs. William Rodeghiero; Mrs. Janet Rydell and Mrs. Harley Gillett served the wedding cake and Mrs. Rydell and Bonnie Rydell furnished music. The floral arrangements and decorations were in charge of Mrs. Ludwig Thiele and Mrs. Fred Brown was caterer.

The couple left by plane for a two weeks honeymoon in Los Angeles, Calif. They are making their home at Zeeland.

The bride attended Joliet Township high school and was employed by the James Flett organization in Chicago as payroll and accounting clerk.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harn Lamberts, the Misses Frances and Grace Riemersma, all of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Case Stam, Holland, Mich.; Mrs. Grace Nobel, Cooperstown, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Bosgraaf, Wheaton, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ritter, Des Plaines, Ill. and Mrs. Violet Riemersma, Zeeland, Mich.

Pitch Takes on New Meaning for Chorus

Ordinarily pitch is related to tone to these young ladies but right now they are starting construction of a carnival booth from which they will make a pitch to separate the crowd as they hope the affair will draw from the silver, the proceeds going to the Lincoln-Way chorus. The affair is billed as "Karnival Knight" and is to be held in the Lincoln-Way high school gym, Saturday night, March 10. The hours are from 6 to 11 p.m. In the pictures, left to right, are (top) Janet Korsgaard and Bonnie Slick and (bottom) Betty Ann Hunt and Diane Ullrich. (Lincoln-Way photo)

Tinley Park
Unit No. 615

The meeting held Feb. 24 was a social night when buncos was played and refreshments were served by Creta Keuch, Georgine Mager and Lois Greitag.

The unit expressed their gratitude to all who attended their card and buncos party Feb. 10.

As the national project for the unit this year is "Education for Korean Orphans," it was decided to donate $5 for this cause.

It was explained that an orphan in Korea can be educated for that amount, and that if these children are to grow into capable, reliable guardians of this valued "anchor," they must be educated. It was stated that with out a doubt there is no place today where one can buy so much for so little. In Korea one may purchase much contentment in your heart by knowing a child has been helped.

The unit also sent 12 caps to boys in the Sherman cottage at Normal. These caps were donated by a business woman of Tinley Park for this purpose for which the unit is most grateful and for all donations to child welfare.

The unit will hold a rummage sale Thursday March 15, in the Legion hall, starting at 8:30 a.m. Coffee and rolls will be served until 10 a.m. and from 11:30 to 1 p.m. lunch will be served. Gertrude Jacobs and Florence Feil are in charge of the sale and those wanted to donate to this may call KE 2-4593.

The next meeting of the unit will be held Friday March 9 at 8 p.m. in the Legion hall.

YOUTH SPEAKS

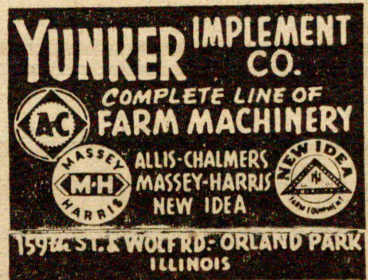

Attends Convention

By Linda Nelson

By Lynda Nelson - Grade 7
Walter Fierke, superintendent of the Bert Fulton and Tinley Park schools, attended a convention at Atlantic City, N.J., of the American Association of School Administrators. He left Feb. 16 and returned Feb. 25. There were over 19,000 school superintendents, principals, and school board members present. They talked over problems common to all schools. Carlos Ramulo, representative of the Philippines on the U.N., gave a speech. One night Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians entertained them.

Our plan is to work until YOU are pleased — and we're not satisfied until we do!

The prize for Chicago school winners will be scholarships to the Junior School of Art in the Art Institute. All other winning contestants will receive paintings by Illinois artists for their school. The Tinley Park Women's club is adding a cash prize of $5 for the best composition from the Tinley Park school.
Last year the school won three prizes in the local competition.

ALPINE

Mrs. E. Mrosek
Fieldbrook 9-2841

Mrs. Chester Williams, of Alpine, was re-elected vice president of the PTA Council of the South Western area, district 19, at a meeting held recently in the Tinley Park school.

Mrs. Williams opened the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Arthur Weygandt, and Walter Fierke, principal of the school, gave a welcoming address.

Following the business meeting which included an election of officers, Mrs. Fierke, program chairman, presented a fine program. Mrs. Lyman McKeane, historian, gave a Founders Day report. Mrs. Lynden DeYoung sang three solos accompanied by Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Paul Patterson gave an interesting talk on the White House conference she attended in November.

A lovely corsage was presented to Mrs. Edward Pettijohn, first past president and is now serving as district director of the council.

Refreshments were served during the social hour by the Tinley Park School PTA of which Mrs. Perry Jochum is president.

Maue PTA officers attending were Mrs. Norman Strassenburg, Mrs. Raymond Knieriem and Mrs. John Cruise.

The annual Hobby show for Maue school children, sponsored by the PTA, will be held in the school, Wednesday evening, March 14. Awards of ribbons and cups will be made to the three best in each room, and a participation award will be given to each student who exhibits. It is expected this popular event will attract many visitors from the community. An interesting program is being planned.

A definite date has not been set for the next square dance but it is expected that one will be held sometime in April.

Cub Scouts, den 5 of pack 218 nearly finished the underwater scene they have been working on, at the regular meeting held in the John Cruise home, Thursday afternoon. At the next meeting members are to bring in the clay models of divers and of other objects usually found on the ocean floor.

Measles, Chicken Pox and Flu are making the rounds these days. Marvin, six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reeves, is ill with both measles and pneumonia. He is under medical care and seems to be getting along all right.

Sam Gowlik, 50, of 175th st., figured in an auto accident Feb. 24 during the dense foggy weather. He was driving his truck north on Rt. 45 to pickup some feed and a large truck and a car behind that truck was coming south. The car behind the truck passed it and went head on into Mr. Gawlik. Mr. Gawlik said the oncoming car was speeding and his car was well demolished. Mr. Gawlik suffered a broken knee cap and the driver of the other car, B. Lenneman 25, of Arlington Heights, was taken to the hospital in the police ambulance. There is a possibility that Mr. Gawlik's knee cap will need surgery.

126 Die on Illinois Roads in January--

The 126 deaths from motor vehicle crashes on Illinois highways which occurred during January represent a 22 per cent decrease from January 1955, according to a report by Edwin A. Rosenstone, director of public works and buildings.

Commenting on the report, Gov. William G. Stratton said he believed the special stressing of safe driving during the New Year week-end, when members of the Illinois National Guard were ordered out to assist the state police in patrolling highways, had much to do with the improved safety record for the whole month of January.

Read insecticide labels carefully, and then follow precautions and recommendations for their use.

Less Than Year Ago Illinois Hatcheries Do Brisk Business

Broiler chick placements in Illinois during the week ending Feb. 18 totaled 232,000, which is seven percent more than in the preceding week and 15 per cent above placements during the comparable week in 1955, according to the state and federal departments of agriculture. Commercial hatcheries of Illinois shipped 140,000 broiler chicks to other states, compared with 169,000 for the previous week. The movement from out of state hatcheries totaled 81,000 chicks, compared to 71,000 a week earlier.

"If there be any truer measure of a man than by what he does, it must be by what he gives,"—South.

During 1955, Red Cross collected 2,210,000 pints of blood for 3,800 hospitals. Blood is everybody's need. Thru Red Cross, it saves lives daily.

In over-all performance
Ford won the Pure Oil Manufacturer's Award for the most consistent performance.

The Ford V-8 again showed its tailight to all competitors in the "Olympics" of stock car racing at Daytona Beach, Florida.

In blazing across the finish line Ford demonstrated once more the sizzling performance that keeps it the largest-selling V-8 in the world. No other car in the field could match Ford for getaway "git" . . . for straight-away acceleration . . . for all-around roadability. To see exactly how the other cars trailed behind Ford, see the chart at the top of this page.

One of the secrets of Ford's performance is the tremendous torque (wheel turning power) developed by Ford engines. For example, Ford's new 225-h.p. Thunderbird engine develops more torque than any other engine in the low-price field. This means quicker response, smoother running in the kind of driving you do! Just nudge Ford's accelerator and whoosh! You pass in instants when instants count!

Ford now offers this mighty 225-h.p. engine with any Ford Fairlane or Station Wagon model with Fordomatic. What's more, these engines are coming off the assembly lines right now! So why wait? Come in today for a Test Drive. Find out for yourself about Ford performance. Find out why Ford is the V-8 with the biggest following!

Theater Group Seeks Members

Now is the chance for anyone with a yen for amateur theatricals to ally himself or herself—with the Mokena Players.

There are many jobs to be done in presenting a show besides acting in it.

Persons are needed to make scenery; set up lighting effects and operate the lights; hunt up costumes, pieces of furniture and other props; select plays and perform in many other jobs so officers of the organization figure that anyone interested is bound to find something they can do.

Experts Look on West Rockford As Possible Repeat Champions; Finals at Champaign March 16-17

The sectional basketball tournaments now underway in Illinois will wind up tomorrow night, to be followed by super-duper sectionals to take the place of initial rounds at Champaign-Urbana.

With this arrangement in force the Illinois state high school basketball tournament finals will no longer be called the "Sweet Sixteen."

Whether this will be whittled down to the "Exclusive Four" at a later date will depend upon the Illinois High School Athletic association which has charge of all tournament arrangements.

The extra sectional, it was pointed out, will bring more money into the state association's coffers and the state association in time past has never been averse to any increase in receipts.

None of the Southwest Conference schools survived regional play. Rich, which was rated as the strongest team in the league, was knocked out in the semi-finals at the Bradley tournament. Bremen and Oak Lawn fell at Joliet and Carl Sandburg was downed at Riverside-Brookfield. Incidentally Sandburg looked like it was going places in its first and only game of the regional against the host school and at one time in the third period led by 17 points.

But the final frame saw the lead dwindle until the score was tied at 48 all. The overtime saw the end of Sandburg's hopes.

Joliet Catholic high, winner of the Joliet regional, is the choice of a majority of sports-writers to win the Hinsdale sectional with Oak Park as second choice.

Bloom is picked as the probable winner of the Kankakee tournament.

Sportswriters who have gone out on a limb in forecasting sectional results are agreed that is to say a majority of them are agreed—the following teams are probable winners:

New Trier at Arlington Heights; Westville at Champaign, altho many of them agree that Champaign has a good chance to take that tourney; Galesburg at East Moline; Shawneetown at Harrisburg; Lincoln at Jacksonville; LaSalle-Peru at LaSalle; St. Anthony or Central at Olney; Peoria Central at Peoria; Pinckneyville at Pinckneyville; Quincy at Quincy; West Rockford at Rockford; St. Teresa or Clinton at Shelbyville and Edwardsville at Wood River.

Of course, every school in the tournament, sectional, super-sectional and state has its loyal fans who are confident of winning the championship but those who are impartial pick West Rockford, Pinckneyville and Galesburg as the teams to beat. West Rockford won the state championship last year and has been picked by many as the probable winner of the 1956 crown.

Sportabout

by JACK MAYPOLE

I've got to brush the principles of good columning aside this time and rick commercialism. Anyhow I've got a sneaking hunch no one is going to dash in and order a gross of what I want to write about.

You see, smack dab in the middle of my sales floor at Maypole Boats and Motors in Chicago I've got a submarine sitting, pretty as you please. The only one like it in the U.S.

It's just a pilot model but it is the real McCoy. Two-Passenger, with all the accessories. Came from Italy. Actually, the submarine isn't mine. It belongs to Healthways, an outfit interested in water skis, skn diving and such. I just have it to show until March 15.

This pilot model weighs 2,500 pounds but I've been informed that the makers plan to remake the production job in plastic and cut the weight to 700 pounds.

The seats are in tandem, as in an old Cub plane, and controls are in each seat. The cockpit gets a mite damp as it is open. This makes necessary for users to wear water lungs and other diving equipment.

The sub is powered with a 25-horse gas motor that will turn up six to seven miles an hour submerged. The instrument dash has a compass and a depth gauge. The maximum descent possible is about 60 feet.

The idea is to use the sub until you locate some finny denizens, then to swim out and take off after them. Your partner, of course, stays with the sub.

At any rate it's something new. Reminds me of a sea-going golf cart.

Need More Reality, Less Theory In Accident Prevention Program, Declares Safety Specialist

A "road block of cross purposes" is preventing accident prevention specialists from putting their knowledge to work to reduce traffic accidents, J. Dewey Dorsett, general manager of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, told delegates at a safety conference Monday.

Mr. Dorsett suggested that so much attention has been given to technicalities and theories that traffic safety organizations have lost sight of their first responsibility, the "quick and substantial" reduction of the present accident toll and "continuing improvement into the future."

He proposed a five point plan for achieving greater safety on the highways, an accurate analysis of traffic accident conditions, the adoption in each state of uniform traffic laws and regulations, strict law enforcement, better court handling of traffic cases, and more and better roads.

Citing firm reasons for these points, Mr. Dorsett declared: "Let's stop kidding ourselves about the enormity of the traffic accident problem. Both private and public accident prevention organizations and agencies come out, month after month and year after year, with the sickening news that more people than ever were killed and injured, but—it was the safest year ever because more motor vehicles were being driven more miles than ever. That is whitewashing a tragic national disgrace."

"In the first place, it presupposes that we have a reasonable norm upon which to base such ratios. We do not. In the second place, we do not know the complete dimensions of the traffic accident record. Therefore, we have no basis whatever upon which to establish ratios accurately; and to relate one shocking record to another shocking record is pure deception and a dis-service to the public."

"I recommend, as a step toward a real and lasting solution of the traffic accident problem, the prompt adoption of a uniform accident reporting system and the maintenance of accurate records by every state. I recommend further, that a central agency be designated to which accident statistics—including injuries and property damage, as well as fatalities—shall be sent daily, to the end that the American people may be informed each and every week about the true extent of their traffic accident problem.

"2. Let's get realistic about traffic laws and regulations. There are three areas in this field where great improvement is particularly needed. They are (a) the licensing of new drivers and the re-licensing of present drivers; (b) speed limits based on the ability of the driver rather than the vehicle; and (c) uniformity of basic laws in all of the states.

"The need for firm and adequate first examinations is obvious; there is equal need, however, for re-examination of all drivers at least every three years, based perhaps on the anniversary date of the last license. And I unequivocally recommend, immediate re-examination under any of the following circumstances: upon conviction of a violation of traffic laws, such as speeding, reckless driving, drunken driving, or a felony; upon involvement in an accident in which a person is killed or injured, or property damage exceeds $100; or upon involvement in a third accident, regardless of the damage involved.

"Speed control is one of the most serious problems before us. What is a safe speed? The only sound answer is a rate that the average driver is capable of handling when he or she is confronted suddenly by an emergency. We know that 50 miles per hour is safe, but diminishes as conditions deteriorate. I recommend that safe speeds under all conditions be established and posted. Then we shall have a decent basis for punishing violators and will provide sound protection for everyone.

"There is no uniformity of traffic laws. Only one state has adopted the Uniform Vehicle Code. Yet, motor vehicle traffic is strictly an interstate business these days. The Uniform Vehicle Code should be adopted by all of the states.

"3. Let's have strict enforcement of our traffic laws and regulations. Nothing breeds contempt and disregard for law so quickly as public knowledge that enforcement is non-existent or timid. Effective enforcement means, first, enough policemen on full time road duty to let every motorist know that his chances of getting away with a violation are too small even to be considered. A second must be that police be equipped with modern means of detecting traffic law violations, such as radar, unmarked police cars, and tests for drunken driving. To those who say unmarked police cars are not right, I answer that we then should also put detectives back in uniform and let crime inherit the earth. And if alcoholic tests are unconstitutional, so is finger printing.

"4. Let's have more realistic court handling of traffic cases. A lenient judge can do more to undermine efficient enforcement of traffic laws than any other individual group of individuals, unless it be a group of lenient judges. He not only destroys police morale, but he also invites motorists to disobey the law by letting them know that, if they are arrested, they will get a tap on the wrist, at most. Certainly, a judge must require proof of guilt, but once that is established the punishment should fit the crime.

"5. Let's have more and better roads. Only last month, the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies formally announced its support of a sound road improvement program. However, nothing is truer than the statement that you can build safety into a road, but if you do not, at the same time, build safety into the drivers who use those roads, they will find new ways of killing themselves and other people, too.

"So I say, let's have more and better roads, but let's not kid ourselves and the public by thinking they will be any safer than the average road unless we establish safety rules designed to fit them and provide the means of firmly requiring driver compliance. In other words, let's build safety into the drivers, as well as the roads.

"I submit that every group in the nation has an equal stake in the problem of traffic accidents. The worker killed or injured on the highway is as direct a loss to his employer as though he had been killed in the plant or office. The minimum cost of traffic accidents is a direct tax on every man, woman and child in this country. Your pocketbook is in the middle, not to mention your life and limb.

"When the people are made to understand this fact, traffic safety will not be far behind. But it will not be accomplished by inaccurate statistics, by anticipated laws, by inadequate or timid enforcement, by lenient courts, or by telling the people that safe roads will make safe drivers. The whole truth, and nothing but the truth, will get the job done. I can't think of a better place to start than right here, at this Southern Safety Conference."

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
International Uniform Sunday School Lessons
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN
Background Scripture: Luke 17:20-21:36
Devotional Reading: Romans 8:28-39
Jesus on History
Lesson for March 11, 1956

HALF way through a movie you may see people getting up and walking out. That does not necessarily mean they are disgusted with the picture. It's just that they came in right there in the first show. "This is where we came in," they say, and they don't care to see the second half of the film twice. (Query, by the way: Is a movie, or a book, that isn't worth seeing or reading twice, worth seeing at all?) In ancient times, the learned Greeks thought that history was like a motion picture shown over and over again. Dr. Foreman

If a man lived long enough he could see history repeat itself, they thought. The diagram which to the Greek mind best represented history would be a circle. Fly, moth or man, going around in circles will never get anywhere. History, the Greeks thought, is like that. It moves, but it never gets anywhere.

History Goes Somewhere

The Bible's view of history is a different one. History is more like a straight line than a circle. "Straight" line is too simple. If you will read the book of Judges in the Old Testament you will find a line of history that goes uphill and down in dizzy succession. But crooked or straight, it is a line going somewhere. On a circle, you pass a given point. Now, after you have passed that point, are you getting farther away from it as you move, or are you getting nearer? The answer is both, of course. Now if history is a kind of circle, then if you ask the question: Are we getting farther away from barbarism, is the world getting better at all? The answer will have to be: It doesn't make any difference. We are farther from that period of barbarism through which we last passed; but we are getting closer to the next period of barbarism. History, bad and good, will repeat itself.

Now the Bible, and Jesus especially, have a different view. The world is moving away from a past that will never happen again. It is moving, we are moving, toward a future that has not yet happened and will happen only once. The course of history is not like a toy airplane that buzzes around and around, captive on a wire; but like a real plane that soars swiftly to its distant port.

History Keeps Going

Human history will have an end, so far as this earth is concerned, some day. (Of course no human being's final destiny would be ended even if the whole human race were destroyed by H-bombs. But we are talking about history on this green planet.) But it is a mistake, as Jesus pointed out, to jump to the conclusion that we are living in history's last chapter. "The end will not be at once," he said. Many times men and women have seen sure they knew the end of the world was at hand; but they have always been mistaken. There is a theological seminary which was built by contributions from the churches which it serves. But there were some churches back when the seminary was built, that would not contribute. The end of the world is too close, they said, to be wasting money on brick buildings. It is never wise to refuse to build for tomorrow, for it is never wise to assume there isn't going to be a tomorrow. History is going somewhere; but it will not reach its destination "in nothing flat."

The Goal of History

Where is history going? The Christian answer is: Toward the reign of the Lord Jesus over all mankind. Jesus taught his disciples to look forward to one event above all others: his coming again. Now the Christian church from earliest times has had various ideas about how and when Christ's Coming will be, and what it will mean in detail. But surely no Christian can accept seriously the idea that history just goes on and on, a line that has no direction and no end. God and evil are in conflict; must we believe that this war will never end? On the contrary, Christians are united in believing that what Christ bade us hope for will come true, and indeed many Christians believe that it is beginning to come true now; namely, that God in his own time will bring our time to an end, that soon or late as we count it, but surely, the Son of Man, in power and glory, will be Lord of all.

Testing Soil First Step in Making Lawn

With those first balmy breezes of spring due soon, a perennial fever will touch most home owners again. It's lawn fever, and the symptom is frenzied activity out of doors. But much of this effort is wasted since we quell the fever with bodily exercise instead of straight thinking.

You can have a beautiful Kentucky bluegrass lawn without an aching back, if you start right away.

Here is step one and you can accomplish it before the fever strikes. Know your soil. Simple? Yes, but how many times have you had your soil analyzed? State agricultural experimental stations say more than half the nation's homeowners have never heard of the practice and most of the rest think it's an expensive process used only by parks and golf courses. It's not. It's the wisest couple of dollars you ever spent.

Most of the state experimental stations or state agricultural colleges will do it for you, as will thousands of nurseries, seed companies and research organizations. Most hardware stores carry inexpensive "do it yourself" kits.

There is nothing to digging up a few ounces of soil but be sure to go down six to eight inches. That's where your Kentucky bluegrass roots will grow and that's where you get the true picture. Of course, you may need to take more than one sample if you have a large yard but you should take the extra samples from places where you are having trouble getting a good stand of bluegrass.

When you get the chemical analysis of your lawn, it's time to think instead of act. Look at your lawn. Kentucky bluegrass grows thru most of the winter. Bare spots and weed patches mean trouble and if it's all bare or all weeds you'll want to prepare a seed bed and do some heavy fertilizing. If you have bluegrass you probably have only a few areas where you need plan to concentrate your efforts, seeding the trouble spots and feeding the whole lawn generously.

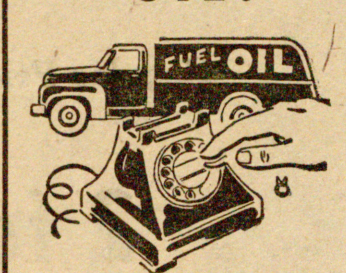

Remember, the final goal of most lawnowners is a Kentucky bluegrass lawn and bluegrass thrives on a high nitrogen plant food. But, if you wait too long the weeds that come in the spring will thrive on that same fertilizer to the disadvantage of bluegrass.

COMING EVENTS
March 7—No School. Business Education Day, Faculty Meeting, Athletic Banquet.
March 10—Karnival Knight
March 14—Annual School Board Dinner in Joliet

Will Attend Open House
Fourteen Lincoln-Way students and their chaperons will attend the annual open house of the engineering college on the University of Illinois campus Friday and Saturday, March 9 and 10.

All of the various fields of engineering will hold open house and high school students will have an opportunity to observe first hand the equipment with which they work and the facilities which the University has available for future engineers. At the same time they will be able to better evaluate their own plants in terms of the field of engineering for which they wish to prepare.

The students plan to leave Friday morning and return Saturday afternoon. They will be chaperoned by Mrs. Everett Cooper of Mokena; Mr. Ronald Whitaker of New Lenox; and Mr. H. Neil Hardy of the Lincoln-Way staff.

William McCormick, Paul Schuh, Barbara Sayers, William Heidrich, Everett Hauck, Fred Heitman, Donald Korsgaard, Bruce Damerell, John Weber and Ruth Heimerdinger, of New Lenox, James Cooper, George Dath and Robert Olson of Mokena; and Alan Mager, of Frankfort plan to make the trip.

Getting Acquainted With U. S.
This is the title of a unit in Social Studies and English which began last week. Several weeks ago the students selected and wrote to cities in different sections of the United States. Since that time each mail delivery brings in many letters, post cards, picture portfolios, and data sheets from all over the United States.

The class is divided into five committees, the Northeast, Midwest, Southeast, Northwest and Southwest. Each student has a particular state he is responsible for and will present an oral illustrative report to the class pointing out such things as the industry, agriculture, natural resources, colleges and universities, and scenic and recreational spots in this area.

Some groups are presenting their materials as a travelogue moving from state to state telling what they see as they move along. Other groups have colored slides which depict the scenic wonders of the United States. Each student is also preparing three maps of the United States: First is a political and geographic map locating important cities, rivers, and mountain ranges; second is a map of the agricultural products, natural resources, and national parks; the third locates the industrial products of the different sections of the country.

The English classes have been working on stories, poems, and personality sketches which depict the different sections and peoples which make up our United States.

Number Lover's Corner
Answers to last week's puzzles.

1. The cost is $1.40. Cut all 4 links of one section and use them to join the other.
2. Gleepers and Plonths. If a brick weighs a pound and a half brick, then a half brick weighs one pound. One and one half brick equals three pounds. Using this logic 1/2 pooster equals 2 blahmies equals 8 gleepers equals 32 plonths.
3. Only one of the 27 cubes is unpainted; 8 are painted on three sides; 12 are painted on two faces and 6 have one side painted.

Now batter your brains with these:

1. Droons and Muldruffs
- A. ALL DROONS are the same size and shape.
- B. All green SLACKENS are the same size and shape.
- C. Twenty DROONS just fill up a MULDRUFF.
- D. All WALLAXES contain green SLACKENS.
- E. A green SLACKEN is 10% bigger than a DROON.
- F. A WALLAX is smaller than a MULDRUFF.

Question: If all MULDRUFFS and all WALLAXES are predominantly RED throughout, what is the largest possible number of green SLACKENS in a WALLAX?

2. The License Plate. Jim Carter was sorry to have to discard last year's license plates from his car, for the numbers made a beautiful poker hand—a full house. We was disgusted to note that on his new plate all five figures were different. To top that, he inadvertently screwed the plates on his car upside-down, with the result that he increased his registration number by 78,633 until he noticed the error.

What was the number on his license plate?

3. An easy magic square: Arrange the digits, from 1 to 9, in a square so that every row, column and diagonal totals the same amount.

Congratulations to our three Cub Scouts: Richard Eccls, Bruce Niebrugge and Charles Harris took the Cub Scout oath March 1 in the Orland Park Legion hall. The boys received Cub Scout pins which they are allowed to wear on their civilian clothes but not on the Scout uniform. Mr. Yomans announced that he will be unable to except any more boys until more Dens are opened. An interesting movie was shown on Safety by a member of the State troupe. Chocolate milk, coffee and donuts were served after the meeting.

We were sorry to hear Kenzie Wise was injured in a fall on the ice in front of his home. The child was taken to Blue Island hospital and remained there for two days. Kenzie is home now and able to be outside.

Donald Niebrugge is home from the hospital after a long two weeks, and is doing fine. Mrs. Niebrugge is happy to have all three of her children at home again and things back to normal.

Mrs. Henry Anderson's mother Mrs. Arthur Little has undergone a serious operation and is recuperating in Billings hospital.

W. Eccls' office had its grand opening Feb. 29 at 55th near Cicero ave. Van Dusen's aircraft supply is the second such company in Chicago. Mrs. Eccls was one of the hostesses at the opening. Orchids were given to the employee's wives and a buffet dinner of turkey and ham were served. Many out of town guests were present.
